R. COOK SPEAKS TO A BOSTON AUDIENCE

ys That He Carried Pemmican, Not Pressed Musk Ox Meat, on Sledges.

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Upon his ar- al here yesterday, Dr. Frederick Cook was questioned regarding an erview with Harry Whitney, the w Haven sportsman, in which hitney stated that Dr. Cook did not ve any records with him at Etah, instruments only. On this point, Cook said yesterday afternoon t he left several cases with Whit- containing instruments and also ne rough drafts and notes which ght not be intelligible to anyone e but which would be of great ue to himself in establishing his ims.

"There is no question that such es were there," said Dr. Cook, em- atically.

Dr. Cook was introduced by Benja- n F. Trueblood, secretary of the erican Peace Society of Boston, one who "did not come as a con- versalist, nor to criticise or de- ne another, or to say other men d not done what he had done," er which Dr. Cook delivered his lecture in Symphony Hall, before a representative Boston audience.

Dr. Cook took occasion to reply to a recent and pertinent query of George Kennan, in a magazine article in which the writer claimed Dr. Cook could not take sufficient food supplies on two sledges to last eighty-two days. Dr. Cook said in reply:

"Mr. Kennan has the idea that we used pressed musk ox meat as food for dog and man. If we had, his criticism would have been just, for we could not have lived on less than 5,000 pounds of such meat, which it would have been impossible to carry on two sledges. But we did not have musk ox food. We had pemmican and we used one pound per man, per dog, per day. One pound of pemmican is equal to five pounds of fresh meat, so you will see that Mr. Kennan's figures are all right when properly applied."

Last night Dr. Cook included Peary's name in the list of intrepid explorers who had preceded him to the far North.

Blind Beggar Buys An Automobile for $150

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—A blind gar who has been selling shoe- ngs and lead pencils in the streets Erie, Pa., walked into a big auto- bile salesbouse and, after selling wares to employes about the e, asked if they had a small auto- bile for sale.

here happened to be an old run- t in the garage which had been pted in trade. He was led to it, after feeling it over requested a ride. It was given him, when he displayed a roll of bills and said he meant business.

On returning to the garage he was told the old machine could be purchased for $250. He answered that he had $150. He got the machine for the price. Then he requested that it be stored for him until he could sell pencils enough to get money to ship it to his home in Pittsburg. The request was granted, and he went out on the job. He gave his name as Henry Ellsworth, and said he lost his sight in a mine explosion.

SEA ISLAND COTTON IS FIRM AT SAVANNAH.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 2.—The Sea Island market has been firm the past week with a good demand, and prices have been maintained or further advanced. Some business was done in the low grades, mainly of old cotton from last season. The close was firm with factors' tables pretty well swept.

Favorable crop accounts are received from Georgia, most sections reporting a very good yield, although there are indications that the acreage reduction was larger than previously supposed, especially in the eastern counties. Accounts from Florida are greatly unfavorable, the crop having suffered more from vicissitudes of the weather, and a material falling off is usually reported.

There are further complaints of the Savannah trade being handicapped by under-selling in the interior.

Sales for the week, 1,438 bales.

The following prices were based on factors' quotations and are revised weekly on Fridays:

A SIMPLE REMEDY FOR SNAKE BITE.

A valued friend whom this writer met at Leesburg last Saturday gives the following as a sure cure for the bite of any kind of a snake: Take a small handful of common salt, dampen it enough to hold the grains together, clap it to the wound made by the snake and hold it there until the salt turns green; then throw it away and repeat the application with more salt. Continue applying until the salt fails to show any green color, and then the patient is out of danger.

The friend gave several instances of this remedy having been used with speedy and complete success. It is so simple and so easily applied that it ought to be generally known. If anyone has occasion to try it on either human being or dumb animal, he will please report the result to The Herald.—Punta Gorda Herald.

Cotton continues to boom in Jennings. Four ginneries there are running full time, and some overtime. The price for the staple in the seed hangs around seven cents per pound. The prices are said to be so attractive that at least a carload has been shipped there from White Springs.

SENATOR JOE BAILEY REPLIES TO COL. BRYAN

Shows That Democrats Were Far In Advance of Republican Insurgents On Tariff Question.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 2.—United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey, replying to recent tariff declarations of William J. Bryan, took to task Mr. Bryan last night for assertions credited to him in his address at El Paso, a week ago.

Announcing at the outset that his address would be devoid of personal bitterness, Mr. Bailey denied assertions with regard to Mr. Bryan, credited to him in a recent speech at Dallas, and which brought forth a heated retort from Mr. Bryan during his El Paso address.

"Either someone has done him wrong," Mr. Bailey continued, "or he was doing someone a wrong."

In his recent address, Mr. Bailey declared, Mr. Bryan asserted that the only real reform in the tariff attempted was by Republicans, while the Democrats quarreled among themselves for protection for industries in their respective districts. This, Mr. Bailey described as "a terrible indictment of the Democratic party," and would be used by Republican speakers in the next campaign.

The Senator declared the indictment "almost mendacious," and declared with a single exception (Senator McErney of Louisiana) every Democrat in the Senate had voted for lower duties than were proposed in the Republican bill, which Senator Cummins of Iowa declared, "bad as it was, was better than any bill the Democrats could make."

He maintained that equal distribution of the burdens of the Government was sound Democratic doctrine, and declared he would not vote to take the tax off that which the manufacturer buys while taxing that which the manufacturer sells, but he would vote to reduce that tax to a revenue basis, which he declared to be the doctrine of true Democracy.

In answer to Mr. Bryan's declaration that he was seeking the election of a Democratic Congress, the Senator asked why he came to Texas, where the delegation in Congress is solidly Democratic, and advised him to go to Nebraska and exert himself.

"If he will go there, I will come and help him."

R. Hudson Burr Answers The Miami News-Record

Tallahassee, Fla., Oct. 2, 1909.
Editor Miami News-Record,
Miami, Florida.

Dear Sir—In a recent issue of your paper you publish an article in which you connect me with certain political conferences and deals. I quote in part from your article:

"The recent announcement of Hon. Lewis Zim of St. Augustine that he would be a candidate for Congress in the Second district before the primaries of next year, is the first indication that certain political conferences that have been held this summer are bearing fruit.

"It is evidence of one of the finest political deals that have been entered into by politicians in many a long day, and which if carried out will break up the political calculations of many aspiring politicians.

"The News-Record is in receipt of reliable information, from a source that cannot be doubted, that exposes the inside facts of the proposed deal and that will stir up considerable interest in political circles.

"Reading Mr. Zim's announcement carefully it becomes evident that he does not commit himself to running as a Congressional candidate, but leaves something open for after-consideration.

"Instead of Mr. Zim's finally running for Congressman, he will give place on the ticket to R. Hudson Burr, now Railroad Commissioner, who will try to fill Frank Clark's shoes.

"For his service Mr. Zim will, at the proper time, become a candidate for McLin's job as Commissioner of Agriculture, and be supported by those in the present deal."

I would pay no attention to this contemptible article but for the fact that you undertake to connect me with entering into political deals and in doing so use the language: "In receipt of reliable information, from a source that cannot be doubted, that exposes the inside facts."

In the first place, I wish to say that I know nothing of any conference or conferences being held.

In the second place, I have never been a party to a political deal in my life, nor do I ever expect to be.

In the third place, I am not a candidate for Congress, nor have I been even tentatively.

So far as your statement refers to me, I brand it as an unmitigated and malicious falsehood, manufactured from the "whole cloth" for political purposes.

When I get ready to run for Congress or any other office I shall not hesitate to apprise the people of my State of my intentions without entering into political deals.

Oregon Timber To Be Used In Famous Chinese Temple

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2.—Wanting the biggest timbers available in the world for the rebuilding of a famous temple, the Chinese government has come to Oregon for them. These timbers, or rather trees, for they are great logs with the bark still on, are being loaded on board a steamer at Linnton.

The logs, 105 feet long and 49 feet in circumference at the butt, after reaching China, must be towed 28 miles up the Grand Canal and then transported overland six miles to the temple Ling Yen, the most famous house of worship in all the celestial empire.

The only possible way to get the 24 timbers over the six miles of land is for coolies to carry them.

DR. MURPHREE MADE GOOD IMPRESSION

BY HIS ADDRESS AT OPENING OF THE UNIVERSITY.

But a Single Requirement of Students, "Unexceptional Deportment and Strict Attention to Duties."

(By Dr. C. L. Crow.)

The expectation of the University authorities of a larger attendance than usual was realized, more students being present at the opening exercises on Wednesday morning than ever before. Since the opening every day has seen several additions to the enrollment. The formal opening took place at 9:15 Wednesday morning. On the rostrum in the chapel were President Murphree and the protestant ministers of Gainesville; to their right sat the faculty, in front of them the students and a goodly gathering of ladies and gentlemen from the city.

The exercises were opened by a selection from St. Paul read by Dr. Hay. The student quartet choir then led in singing of "Come, Thou Almighty King." The Rev. Mr. Bridges then lead in prayer. This was followed by an address by Dr. Murphree.

President Murphree began by expressing the hope that the vacation just ended had left with all a large residuum of refreshment and hopefulness that would lighten the burdens of the new year and endow all with ample measure of serenity and enthusiasm. He then spoke of the necessity of periods of rest. Relaxation and rest are religious duties, without this mind and body cannot be kept in a fit state to perform their divinely ordained functions. Toil is the enemy of growth and recuperation. This rest, however, should give us such a surplus of strength and hopefulness that work will become a necessity and a pleasure.

Then, addressing himself more particularly to the new students, President Murphree spoke about the value of a college education. Making allowance for all possible juggling with figures, statistics show the uplift of serious, systematic study and mental promptings of high ideals imparted by college life.

Taking as an illustration the thirty-three elect persons from an humble village who had attended college he showed how all had contributed to the elevation of society and had risen to a plane far above their school friends who had not enjoyed a college life; and this is a fair way of estimating the value of a college education.

"Your presence here is a great opportunity for you, and I hope," he said, "that no doubts or discouragements will be entertained which will swerve you from your present purpose or cause you to think lightly of the general effect of college training."

Everything connected with the University, its past history and its reputation justified him in forming a happy forecast for the year on which they were entering. With regard to discipline, in order that the generosity of the State may not be abused, and that perfect justice may be done all who are earnestly striving to make the best use of their opportunities, there is but a single requirement—unexceptional deportment and strict attention to University duties. At the end of the year he hoped he could say that the mere discipline of the school had cost him scarcely an hour's anxiety. This was possible only with a student body with a high sense of honor, an unswerving devotion to their duties, and an unshaken loyalty to the school.

"We are compelled," he said in conclusion, "to wish for the influence of the Book in the school. There is more or less the menace of danger in these wonderful days. The working man himself, without the guidance of the Book, and without the influence that inspired it, will often be a menace to government. 'I must have subjects who know how to be men,' said Napoleon. 'A man is not a man without God.'

"We want you to have an intellectual capacity as good as the world has, and at the same time always to be able to scorn a lie, hate profanity, despise whiskey, love and reverence truth and duty, admire the sentiment of the sermon on the mount, to follow the law of the ten commandments, practice the Golden Rule, and not be afraid to own the Christ.

"We wish our students to be men quiet of spirit, men who believe in God, in the care of his providence, in the gentleness of his fatherhood. Plato asks, 'Is there anything better in a state than that both men and women be rendered the very best.' May the Lord who laid his hands on the little children and blessed them be with you and us; us that we may guide you in the right ways, you that you may apply yourselves unto wisdom."

After the address by President Murphree excellent and inspiring short talks were made by the clergy present and by Congressman Clark.

The president then read several announcements, after which "America" was sung, and the formal opening exercises were concluded.

FIRST ATTEMPT AT RECALL UNDER COMMISSION.

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—The first attempt at a "recall" has been made in Massachusetts under new commission government. It stopped short of completion, but went far enough to show what could be accomplished. It occurred in Haverhill, which is governed by special charter. Ex-Mayor Flanders set going the petitions, which asked for a special city election to act on the recall of the present mayor. The required 1,800 citizens signed the petition, but 264 signatures were defective, as signers had changed places of residence, and only one place of residence was given on the petition.

RECEPTION TO STUDENTS.

B. Y. P. U.'s Entertain at Home of Mrs. W. N. Wilson.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Wilson was the scene of a very festive occasion on Friday evening, when the Baptist Young People's Union entertained in honor of the faculty and students of our State University.

This elegant house had been very beautifully decorated in the University colors for this occasion. The hall in which the receiving line stood had gay festoons of the orange and blue from each corner of the ceiling to the chandelier in the center. Over the doorway leading into the parlor and in the grille work of the hall the colors were draped, many Florida pennants also being hung here and there along the walls.

Both front and back parlors were also decorated with festoons of the orange and blue, and had quite a number of handsome pennants hanging from curtain polls, on portieres and in other conspicuous places. In one corner of the back parlor among beautiful ferns was a large silver punch bowl filled with a most delicious punch, presided over by Miss Scarratt. This corner was indeed a popular place all during the evening.

In the dining-room the same scheme of decoration was carried out. The table, from which Mrs. Turbeville and Mrs. Johnson served cake and cream, was very lovely. Upon a beautiful linen center-piece, embroidered in golden yellow chrysanthemums, sat a lovely vase of goldenrod, around the base of which were very small pennants, alternating the orange and blue colors, with a letter in the center of each, these letters together spelling "University of Florida." The usual array of china and silver completed the decoration of the table, and many handsome ferns made the room look quite beautiful.

In the receiving line were Rev. Dr. Cloar, pastor of the church, Mrs. Wilson, and the officers of the B. Y. P. U. After being presented to each of these the guests were ushered into the front parlor and received lovely cards in the shape of the B. Y. P. U. badge. Upon one side of these was a color print of the badge; the other side was left blank for names. Each guest was requested to write his or her name upon the card, and to pin it upon their shoulder with name outside, so that names might not get confused. These were of course carried away as souvenirs of the occasion.

The refreshments were both delicious and beautiful. They were made by Till of Jacksonville, and carried out the color scheme of the decoration, the cakes being orange colored, and the individual moulds of cream were in blocks of orange and blue. The punch was also orange color. There were a large number of guests present, and all seemed to enjoy the evening very much indeed, all voting Mrs. Wilson and the B. Y. P. U. very successful entertainers.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

When the blood becomes infected with the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, the symptoms are soon manifested. The mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a red rash breaks out, the hair begins to come out, and usually sores and ulcers show themselves on different parts of the body. At the first sign of the disease S. S. S. should be taken, for the trouble is too powerful and dangerous to trifle with. If allowed to run on the tendency is to work down and attack the bones and nerves, and sometimes it makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. The disease can make no such headway if S. S. S. is commenced and used according to directions; its progress can be stopped, the poison removed, and health preserved. S. S. S. goes into the blood and removes the insidious virus, cleanses the circulation and makes a complete and permanent cure by driving out the cause. S. S. S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and blemishes, and when S. S. S. has thoroughly purified the circulation no trace of the disease is left. S. S. S., a purely vegetable remedy, cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. GH SCHOOL NEWS; INTEREST TO PARENTS

UCATIONAL RALLY TO BE HELD NEXT FRIDAY EVENING.

trons Are Urged to Attend This Meeting and Lend Their Assistance.

The enrollment of the Gainesville aded and High School, according Friday's reports, is four hundred d sixty-nine pupils. There are venty-three pupils in the high hool department classified as fol- ws: 35 freshmen, 17 sophomores, juniors, and 5 seniors. There are boys and 49 girls.

The interest and application of the tire school is excellent and the at- ndance is unusual for a school of is class. So far the daily attend- ce has averaged nearly 98 per cent the enrollment. Knowing the many rmful effects of irregular attend- ce, a strenuous effort will be made maintain a very high standard in is respect. Pupils will not be rmitted to attend irregularly, un- ss such attendance is due to un- oidable circumstances. A pupil ho is absent or tardy three times one month without a legitimate cuse lays himself liable to suspen- on.

Pupils will not be permitted to nter the chart class after next Mon- ay. This regulation is made be- ause each beginner who enters af- r the organization of the chart lass makes the organization of new class necessary. Another chart lass will be organized at the begin- ing of the fifth month.

Two athletic associations have een organized in the high school, ne for the boys and one for the girls. n effort will be made to prepare asket ball grounds and tennis courts nd to raise funds for securing the ecessary equipment. As soon as his is done, practice will begin and he school grounds will present a live- y appearance each afternoon after chool. This is a matter that should eceive the encouragement of every atron. Students need a great deal f vigorous out-door exercise. Girls arely take anything like enough. Boys who take enough, if undirected, re likely to take it under conditions hat lead to evil. Supervised and di- ected play is better than that which s not controlled and far better than o play. It is to be hoped that in nother year a physical culture and thletic director can be added to the aculty. This should be a young man f the highest moral character and ne who can teach certain high chool subjects in addition to athle- ics.

The patrons of the school are urged o attend the educational rally to be held next Friday night. Regardless of the enthusiasm that may exist each one will leave that meeting with an increased stock. Conditions here demand all the enthusiasm that can be created. If the increase of attendance is as great next year as it was this, and there is every reason to believe it will be, the present facilities will not begin to accommodate the pupils.

WEST MAIN STREET IS TO BE SETTLED

CITY ATTORNEY NOW AT WORK UPON THE MATTER.

All of Gainesville Will Rejoice When Some Final Disposition Is Made

Some action will be taken by City Attorney Robert E. Davis in reference to West Main street within the next few days, so that official stated Saturday to a reporter of The Sun.

He will first visit Tallahassee to look into the statute of the case; and learn if possible just how the case of the city stands, and the evidence and other matter that has been collected so far before the commencement of any litigation, or suits.

When asked what he thought would be the final outcome of the matter, he stated that he was satisfied that it would only be a short while before the railway company could be compelled to do certain things for West Main street, and he expressed a desire to see it again restored to what it was years ago, one of the handsomest streets in the city.

There has been considerable talk regarding this matter by the past councils, and while they have ordered certain things done no results have ever been accomplished, and some state that it is for the lack of funds, and that they failed to have the nerve to back up their action; but the new city attorney states he will have some disposition made of the matter at a very early date, or as soon as he can examine into the matter and understand more thoroughly the condition of the city's case.

LETTER TO W, E. BAKER, Gainesville, Florida.

Dear Sir: Here's a mail-order paint—there are several such—45 per cent of its solid part is barytes and whiting, and 35 per cent of its oil is benzine and water; the rest is zinc lead and oil.

Barytes whiting benzine and water have nothing to do with paint, except to make more gallons for victims to buy at $5 a gallon put on.

$5 a gallon put on will buy the best paint there is in the world; here's a paint, about half neither pigment nor oil, imposed on the unsuspecting.

What is the remedy? What is the victim to do? Do you favor a pure-paint law in your State?

North Dakota has lately passed such a law; it is worth, we presume, $5 a year to the average man. What is wanted, of course, is paint of such strength that 10 gallons will do a 10-gallon job and wear a long time. Devoe is that paint. Should counterfeits be put-down by law?

Yours truly,

We Wish to Announce That We Have Put in a Full Line of the Celebrated

B. P. S. PAINTS

This is a well-known Paint, having been made and used for many years and giving the very best satisfaction.

The B. P. S. Paints are made in the old-fashion way. The paint is ground very fine and the vehicle used in B. P. S. Paint is Pure Old-Process Linseed Oil, together with the necessary driers, each the very best the market affords.

The B. P. S. Paint has a great covering capacity, spreads well and takes less to finish a job. The stronger covering capacity of paint the fewer coats needed; the weaker the covering capacity the more coats needed, and the more coats applied the bigger the paint and labor bill.

We only ask that you come in and investigate and we believe we can prove and demonstrate to your entire satisfaction that we have the BEST PAINT sold in this country. We also have a full line of Varnishes and Chinalacs for all interior work.

Come in and investigate before painting. Buy the B. P. S. Paint and you get the BEST.

THE DAILY SUN,
Gainesville, Florida.

The easiest way to get miserable is by constantly thinking about oneself; the easiest way to be happy is to do good to others.

It is a singular fact that the most enthusiastic advocates of country life live in the cities, while the most enthusiasm for city life is shown by people in the country.

If anyone thinks he is going to do the work of his life without meeting with difficulties he is greatly mistaken. It is an idle dream from which he will be rudely awakened.

The success of Cook and Peary in reaching the pole will probably have little scientific value and less commercial, but as an achievement it is one of the greatest ever performed by man.

Shakespeare says: "There's a divinity that shapes our ends, rough-hew them how we will." Some people who have had a well nigh unbroken life of hard experience may be inclined to read it this way, "There's a divinity that shapes our ends rough, hew them how we will."

The tour of the States which President Taft is now making gives the press correspondents a good chance to draw upon their imagination. What they know or think they know about the President's utterances in coming speeches makes interesting if not informing reading.

The entire tax rolls of Jacksonville and Starke were published in the papers of those cities by order of the city council. This was done in order to let each property owner know the amount of his assessment in proportion to that of his neighbor. The example should be followed in other cities.

It is said that so long as men strive they err. That is but another way of saying that men make mistakes, which everybody admits. But it is also a fact that so long as men err they also strive, and it is by that striving and the wisdom gained by experience that progress is made and the welfare of man advanced.

General Reyes is wise in declining to be a candidate for the Mexican vice-presidency against the candidate picked by President Diaz. He probably realized that any man opposing Diaz would get into hot water. Mexico may be a republic in name and doubtless is making fair industrial and political progress, but for all that Diaz is practically a despot though, fortunately, of a benevolent type.

The artificial divorce between private and public character, so common years ago, is now rare. People now regard the character of a public official as one. That is as a private citizen and as an office holder he is the same man under different circumstances. Under the old idea many men of unsound private life were chosen to office if they possessed ability. Now it is generally recognised that no man is to be entrusted with public office unless his private life is clean

Of American precursors of Fulton there were surely five, and two of them at least were New Englanders. These were Samuel Morey of Vermont and John Fitch of Connecticut. Others of the five were John Rumsey of Virginia, who disputed Fitch's priority in the field; John Stevens of Hoboken, who operated a screw propeller boat on the Hudson in 1804, and Oliver Evans, who operated a stern wheel scow at Philadelphia. Perhaps the most serious challenge to the claims of Fitch as the first of American steamboat builders is made by Samuel Morey. Incontestably the priority belongs to Fitch, but the completed statement perhaps should be made in these terms: The first steamboat propelled by movable paddles in American waters was that of John Fitch; the idea of the paddle wheel, which was developed by later inventors, is due to Morey. If Hartford, Conn., has a tablet as a memorial of Fitch, the Vermont historical society of Montpelier has a memorial of Morey in the shape of a model of the engine of the first American steamboat propelled by paddle wheels. This boat was "conceived, constructed and operated on the Connecticut river." It was some time after Fitch had been navigating the Delaware that Morey began his experiments, but between these two New Englanders there was no intercourse or competition.

A growing practice of selecting the youngest baby in families of millionaires as the heir is attracting attention and discussion. By such practice, it is asserted, the prohibitions against entailed estates are, at least, partially set at defiance. Under our laws a testator may select his heir, but he cannot entail his estate, nor can he determine how that heir shall devise it. But the beneficiary of the will being a minor, the testator may establish a trust which shall endure for "a life of lives in being and 21 years thereafter." Therefore if a babe, say, one year old, is selected as the heir and a trust is established under strict instructions, an estate may be held intact, in the outlook, for nearly a century. Some rather interesting speculations are indulged in as to the possibilities under such practice. It is pointed out that a million preserved intact for a lifetime would increase enormously. The estate of Marshall Field of $40,000,000, held in trust for two beneficiaries, who are yet young, is taken as an instance to point out that in 40 years, under the terms of the trust, it will amount to more than a billion.

Mr. Harriman was said to have expressed the wish that he was a farmer instead of a financier, because it would have meant for him greater contentment and happiness. There are many wishes which are unattainable, but the wish for a farmer's life could have been realized by Mr. Harriman any day he chose. He had but to turn his back on Wall street and stick close to the soil. But evidently it was but a sentimental wish, not meant to be taken seriously, and that is the case with many of our expressed preferences.

James D. Smillie, the New York artist who died on September 4, was careful of his posthumous fame, as is shown by his will, which provided for a jury of two to determine the comparative merits of his works, finished, unfinished sketches, studies and memoranda of all sort, the jury to destroy all that in their opinion would not be to the advantage of his reputation as an artist if preserved. It is an idea worth carrying farther, not only by artists, sculptors, authors and poets, but by public men.

with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

Many persons, banking officials and business men among others, have found cause for excitement in a new law operative Jan. 1 next. It reads: "No person shall make, issue, circulate or pay out any note, check, memorandum, token or other obligation for a less sum than $1 intended to circulate as money or to be received or used in lieu of lawful money of the United States." Remonstrants jump to the conclusion that after New Year it will be unlawful to give a check for any sum less than a dollar. Not at all. The law is simply a re-enactment of a statute in force for 60 years past, and is designed only to prevent circulation of private paper as money. The precisian will still be able to draw his check for a cent, if he has the money in the bank. As Josh Billings remarked: "It's better not to know so much, than to know so many things that ain't so."

This country is actually importing for medicinal purposes plants that are growing wild all around us, but which no one seems to think it worth while to gather. This fact is pointed out by the Department of Agriculture in a bulletin called "Weeds Used as Medicine," which it would be worth while for the boy who reads this to write for if he wants to make a little money out of the vacant ground all around him. The bulletin will explain how to prepare the weeds for the market and will give some idea of the price that the industrious boy can expect to obtain for marketable weeds. Belgium and other European countries ship to this part of the world every year about 50,000 pounds of burdock root. The root sells for from 3 to 8 cents a pound and the seeds for from 5 to 10 cents.

Stirred by the prevalence of wife desertion, women's clubs in various parts of the country have set out to memorialize Congress in the interest of provision for pursuit of fleeing husbands. It is argued that if they were pursued with the zeal displayed in running down deserting soldiers and sailors, and severely punished, they would be much scarcer than they are now. There is one obstacle to the execution of this plan. Wife desertion is not an offence against United States law. Secondly, it cannot be covered by Federal statute without a Federal divorce law. If women would have the United States catch their vanished spouses, they should first turn attention to this indispensable preliminary.

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Now it is generally recognized that no man is to be entrusted with public office unless his private life is clean

Of American precursors of Fulton there were surely five, and two of them at least were New Englanders. These were Samuel Morey of Vermont and John Fitch of Connecticut. Others of the five were John Rumsey of Virginia, who disputed Fitch's priority in the field; John Stevens of Hoboken, who operated a screw propeller boat on the Hudson in 1804, and Oliver Evans, who operated a stern wheel scow at Philadelphia. Perhaps the most serious challenge to the claims of Fitch as the first of American steamboat builders is made by Samuel Morey. Incontestably the priority belongs to Fitch, but the completed statement perhaps should be made in these terms: The first steamboat propelled by movable paddles in American waters was that of John Fitch; the idea of the paddle wheel, which was developed by later inventors, is due to Morey. If Hartford, Conn., has a tablet as a memorial of Fitch, the Vermont historical society of Montpelier has a memorial of Morey in the shape of a model of the engine of the first American steamboat propelled by paddle wheels. This boat was "conceived, constructed and operated on the Connecticut river." It was some time after Fitch had been navigating the Delaware that Morey began his experiments, but between these two New Englanders there was no intercourse or competition.

A growing practice of selecting the youngest baby in families of millionaires as the heir is attracting attention and discussion. By such practice, it is asserted, the prohibitions against entailed estates are, at least, partially set at defiance. Under our laws a testator may select his heir, but he cannot entail his estate, nor can he determine how that heir shall devise it. But the beneficiary of the will being a minor, the testator may establish a trust which shall endure for "a life of lives in being and 21 years thereafter." Therefore if a babe, say, one year old, is selected as the heir and a trust is established under strict instructions, an estate may be held intact, in the outlook, for nearly a century. Some rather interesting speculations are indulged in as to the possibilities under such practice. It is pointed out that a million preserved intact for a lifetime would increase enormously. The estate of Marshall Field of $40,000,000, held in trust for two beneficiaries, who are yet young, is taken as an instance to point out that in 40 years, under the terms of the trust, it will amount to more than a billion.

Mr. Harriman was said to have expressed the wish that he was a farmer instead of a financier, because it would have meant for him greater contentment and happiness. There are many wishes which are unattainable, but the wish for a farmer's life could have been realized by Mr. Harriman any day he chose. He had but to turn his back on Wall street and stick close to the soil. But evidently it was but a sentimental wish, not meant to be taken seriously, and that is the case with many of our expressed preferences.

James D. Smillie, the New York artist who died on September 4, was careful of his posthumous fame, as is shown by his will, which provided for a jury of two to determine the comparative merits of his works, finished, unfinished sketches, studies and memoranda of all sort, the jury to destroy all that in their opinion would not be to the advantage of his reputation as an artist if preserved. It is an idea worth carrying farther, not only by artists, sculptors, authors and poets, but by public men.

with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

Many persons, banking officials and business men among others, have found cause for excitement in a new law operative Jan. 1 next. It reads: "No person shall make, issue, circulate or pay out any note, check, memorandum, token or other obligation for a less sum than $1 intended to circulate as money or to be received or used in lieu of lawful money of the United States." Remonstrants jump to the conclusion that after New Year it will be unlawful to give a check for any sum less than a dollar. Not at all. The law is simply a re-enactment of a statute in force for 60 years past, and is designed only to prevent circulation of private paper as money. The precisian will still be able to draw his check for a cent, if he has the money in the bank. As Josh Billings remarked: "It's better not to know so much, than to know so many things that ain't so."

This country is actually importing for medicinal purposes plants that are growing wild all around us, but which no one seems to think it worth while to gather. This fact is pointed out by the Department of Agriculture in a bulletin called "Weeds Used as Medicine," which it would be worth while for the boy who reads this to write for if he wants to make a little money out of the vacant ground all around him. The bulletin will explain how to prepare the weeds for the market and will give some idea of the price that the industrious boy can expect to obtain for marketable weeds. Belgium and other European countries ship to this part of the world every year about 50,000 pounds of burdock root. The root sells for from 3 to 8 cents a pound and the seeds for from 5 to 10 cents.

Stirred by the prevalence of wife desertion, women's clubs in various parts of the country have set out to memorialize Congress in the interest of provision for pursuit of fleeing husbands. It is argued that if they were pursued with the zeal displayed in running down deserting soldiers and sailors, and severely punished, they would be much scarcer than they are now. There is one obstacle to the execution of this plan. Wife desertion is not an offence against United States law. Secondly, it cannot be covered by Federal statute without a Federal divorce law. If women would have the United States catch their vanished spouses, they should first turn attention to this indispensable preliminary.

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. THEATRICAL SEASON OPENS OCTOBER 15

NUMBER OF ATTRACTIONS BOOKED UP TO PRESENT TIME.

Manager McCollum Has Joined the Southern Theatrical Circuit of Klaw & Erlanger.

The regular theatrical season for Gainesville will open in this city at the Baird on the 15th of this month, so the reporter was informed Saturday by Manager McCollum.

While he is young at the business he has already secured a number of high class attractions, having enlisted with himself the Klaw & Erlanger circuit, to secure only the very best of bookings for Gainesville, which he feels sure will please the amusement-loving public.

On October 15th he has for the opening bill at this popular new playhouse "St. Elmo," while among the other attractions that will be seen are: Coburn's Minstrels, "Meadow Brook Farm," Black Patti Company, "The Prince of Patches," "A Pair of Country Kids," "A Knight for a Day," "The Village Parson," "The Show Girl," "Little Miss Muffet," "Along the Kennebec," "Out in Idaho," "When His Wife's Away," and Georgia Minstrels.

The above are the bookings that have been secured up to the present time, but they will be largely added to within the next few weeks, as soon as the shows start South, and the manager states that he will experience no trouble in giving the public all of the attractions that will be wanted for Gainesville.

It is the desire of Manager McCollum to secure just what the people want, and he would deem it a favor to have suggestions from the people at any time, for the place is run for the public, and not a disinterested few.

I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. FIRST DANCE OF SEASON.

Young Men of City Give Dance for University Students.

The young men of the University were tendered a very delightful informal hop at the Elks' Club Friday night. Mr. Jobes and Mr Curry furnished the music for this happy occasion, which was exceptionally good. Fruit punch was served all during the evening. About twenty couples enjoyed the pleasures of a good floor and fine dancing until a very late hour. Those present were Misses Burkhim, Richards, McCreary, Eddins, Medlin, Colson, Sadler, Schrever, Patton, Rosabel Pedrick, Winifred Pedrick, Fannie Burkhim, Lukens, Cromwell and Mrs. J. A. Forsythe; Messrs. W. Shands, Christian, Bouis, Taylor, Gregory, Harper, Chapin, Gobert, Myers, Drawdy, Moody, Graham, Adkins, Pile, Cappleman, Cox, Rush, Fuller, Green, Meffert, Stringfellow and others.

"SILAGE REDUCES COST OF FEEDING CATTLE."

After a few years' experience with silage I am thoroughly convinced that it is the best dairy feed and the cheapest. I don't see how any dairyman can get along without it, at the present price of grain feed. I would have to go out of the dairy business if it were not for silage.

I speak of corn as a silage crop because I am sure after trying many other crops that it is the best and the cheapest. On well-prepared, liberally fertiliz d upland we easily grow ten tons per acre. It costs us one dollar and fifty cents per ton to grow it and put it into the silo. We give corn enough distance so that it will have ears on every stalk, and the ears are generally heavy. When it comes out of the silo it is bright and juicy, and you can see the grains of corn in every handful.

There are some special varieties of corn for silage which give better results than common ear corn. Among these are the Virginia Ensilage and the Eureka or Improved Cocke's Prolific. The Virginia Ensilage has some peculiar virtue which makes a finer quality of silage. Cows seem to relish it more than they do any other sort. But the Eureka has always made for us a better tonnage. It has lots of fodder, always two ears to the stalk, and it grows very tall.

I had often read that silage would cut out half the expense of feeding. I thought it an exaggeration, but it is a fact. Besides that, it will increase the production one-fourth, and in many cases much more.

The silo economizes in many ways. Corn for the silo is preserved when it contains the most nutriment; it is hauled directly to the barn, is quickly chopped fine and packed into a small space, and is ready for use any time.

A silo is not an expensive thing to build and there is no trick about putting one up. Any farmer can take ordinary farm hands, and by following the plans sent out by the Department of Agriculture to every one who asks for them, build a silo that will preserve silage perfectly.—Felix Williams, in Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, South Bend, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

DO IT NOW

Gainesville People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's Disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney compaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

Mrs. A. H. Leonard, 304 E. Liberty street, Gainesville, Fla., says: "I feel that from personal experience and that of several of my friends who have used Doan's Kidney Pills, I can endorse them very highly. Any person suffering from backache, headaches, chills, nervousness or any of the other symptoms arising from disordered kidneys, will make no mistake in giving Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. They always act quickly, cause no inconvenience and live up to the claim made for them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FOR CITY MARSHAL.

To the Voters of the City of Gainesville: A special election having been called on Tuesday, October 19, for the election of a Marshal to succeed Ben T. Arnow, resigned, I beg to announce that I will be a candidate for that office, and ask the support of my friends. Being thoroughly experienced along the line of police work, which has been gained by a practical experience, and being now acting Marshal, if my action in this capacity meets your approval, I ask your votes to be continued in office.

Sincerely, HARRY L. OWENS.

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for City Marshal at the special election to be held on October 19th. I am in the race until the polls close on the day of the election, and respectfully solicit the votes of my fellow-citizens, promising, if elected, to perform the duties of the office without fear or favor. Give me your support, and you will never have cause to regret it.

GAINESVILLE,

—THE—

University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with offices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.
